Dedication

Professor J. Clyde Stayer

It is the basic realization that a person who teaches in a small college does not do so with the hopes of accumulating a large material wealth. This possibility is non-existent. His wealth comes from another direction. He must have a desire to be a teacher of youth. He is a person who gets pleasure out of working with people guiding them and giving the much needed boosts to new heights of attainment. He thus molds them, like so much putty, into well-rounded personalities. Then, like the sculptor, standing back to view the finished product, he watches them graduate and progress through life. There is an unselfish joy that can be received by rejoicing in another's success. These are the riches of a teacher. No, these are not material riches, but to one who has given his life to teaching others, these are far greater.

There are times when a teacher wishes he did not have to perform his duties, the times when he must pass judgment on a person who though striving mightily has not quite enough potential to make the grade. Who is he to make or break another human soul. It is far easier to give all passing grades than to flunk one who tried. But, that is not how our competitive society works. Thus, the job of judging falls on the shoulders of the teachers, and it is at this moment that any teacher would gladly slip the traces. To the teacher who performs this task diligently, falls the admiration bestowed upon a judge of men.

Thirty-three years of this life have thus been faithfully given by Professor Stayer in performing his duties at Juniata. Beside his regular job as teacher of mathematics, he was for a period of time the Dean of Men. This not being enough, he also runs the college book store and handles the business that this enterprise entails. He has thus taught and counseled to many.

We feel that by the above standards no truer friend of the students or more typical example of a person who has dedicated his life to the teaching profession can be found. It is with this thought in mind that we dedicate this book to Professor J. Clyde Stayer.

JUNIA
COLLEGE

Fall

*President of the

Dr. Calvert N. Ellis

The world thinks of the scholar as dwelling in an ivory tower apart from practical life. The tower is a symbol of the importance of the intellectual life, but the ALFARATA shows that books and themes are not the sum of college days. Intellectual quests are surrounded by recreation, artistic appreciations and group living.

These pictures and descriptions will recall occasions of achievement and the thrills of success. The daily association in class-room, library, laboratory and on the playing field is the material of memory.

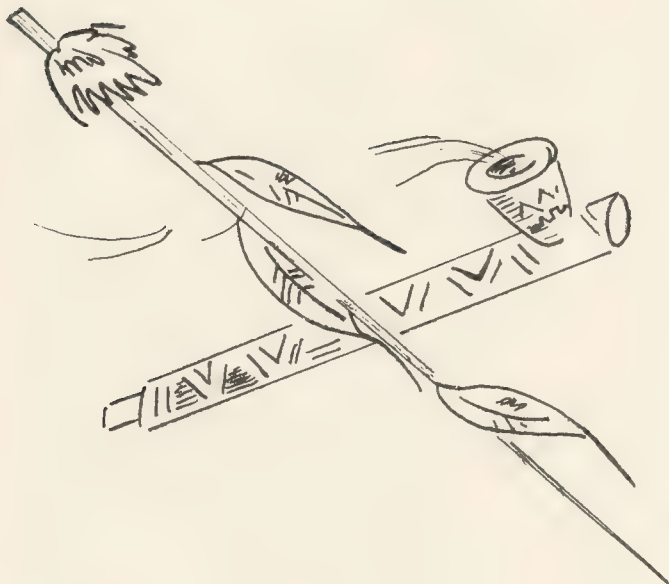

As you turn these pages you will realize how crowded the college year has been. You will see the many opportunities in which you participated and also those you missed. You will see Juniata in her glory—the participating fellowships of faculty and students in the great quest!

Dean of College

I have been much disturbed by the pessimism toward education expressed by Hesketh Pearson in his recent biography of Disraeli. At one point, he says, "Nearly all the famous Victorians cherished an innocent belief in the mental and spiritual advantages of general education; but after eighty years of enforced instruction, we are beginning to wonder whether a level of intelligence that enables the majority to enjoy the products of Hollywood, while the minority discovers how to blow the world to bits, exactly realizes the dreams of those hopeful discoverers."

One can hardly read these words without being impressively reminded of the responsibility which the educated bear. If I understand Pearson, he is implying that the educated have a responsibility for the development of good taste and the capacity for the enjoyment of right pleasures.

The other implication is that the educated must take the responsibility for the proper use of the powers which education has put into their hands. Power misdirected is perhaps more dangerous than the absence of power.

At Juniata we have been committed to the idea that education is for more than competence, important and necessary as that is. An educated person is one who must give a good account of himself in terms of the kinds of satisfactions he finds and the ultimate purpose of his life. These are really the paramount considerations which we want those who are educated at Juniata to carry with them through life.

Dean of Men

Dear Friends:

Visitors to our campus invariably comment about our friendliness. I always delight in replying, "and it's genuine. It's one of the outcomes of education with Christian emphasis. It is part of our teaching and philosophy, to love one another."

I hope that you as individuals are imbued with the spirit of friendliness, and that is a source of joy to you as it is to me.

If it is true that "one lamp can light a thousand," the flames from our whole student body, and from the thousands who have preceded us and of those who will come after, should ignite proportionately to spread enlightenment and peace throughout the world.

I shall never forget you nor your kindnesses to Mrs. Rhodes and me.

Sincerely,
J. Melvin Rhodes
Dean of Students

Dean of Women

In the four years you have been in college, no doubt you have consciously and unconsciously changed your attitudes on many principles. Consequently, I think that perhaps many words in your vocabulary have taken on a new meaning or that you are more cognizant of the logic and meaning involved. This change is to be considered as an asset and a value attained from a college education.

In this connection, three words stand out in my mind. First, the word learning. I think learning comes to mean less the memorization of facts and more the study of material. This is desirable and necessary because you seek to find information that will prepare you for society. Learning also enables you to provide adequately not only for yourself, but for others who will become involved in your life. Second, the word independence. The "freedom" so joyfully accepted when you first came to college takes on a new and more serious meaning. You find that you value more highly the security of your home and the protection of your family. But now because of this independence which you must discipline and contend with according to your own needs, there seem to be more and greater problems for you. Have you accepted this independence wisely and successfully? Finally, the word responsibility. This phase becomes more and more prominent and significant. I think responsibilities have a two-fold purpose: Responsibility to ourselves and to others.

Thus, if you have willingly accepted the mature concept of these and other words, I think you are more likely to be ready for a college diploma.

Beneath the black-robed austerity of the Student Senate lies the spirit of promoting the best possible relationship among the students, faculty and administration of Juniata College. Along with this spirit of cooperation the attempt is made to educate according to the fundamental theories and practices of a democratic government.

The Senate body, composed of twelve members, is arranged in such a manner that it represents all areas of campus life, from social and athletic to religious. Being responsible to the student body, the Senators are constantly aware of student demands and at all times discuss issues relating to their needs and desires. Any student affairs of the college not otherwise delegated to the faculty or administration come under the jurisdiction of the Student Senate.

Beginning with the traditional Leadership Conference held at Camp Kanesatake prior to the opening of the college year, the Senate and other campus leaders hash over issues and problems aimed directly at improving campus life. Out of this year's conference developed twenty-eight resolutions. These resolutions were sent by the Senate to faculty, administration and responsible student groups. The possibility of instituting an Academic Honor System and the promotion of a Safety Program are two of the resolutions that arose from the conference.

Throughout the year the Senate has definite duties to perform. Starting with the Freshman Week Program the Senate is busy with all matters affiliated with student activity. The approval of appointments, organization constitutions, club activities, fund raising campaigns—all are under Senate guidance.

The 1951-1952 Senate was the sixteenth edition of student democracy on College Hill. In retrospect, the four officers and eight chairmen composing the organization worked to insure a better campus home for all students and strived to promote a better faculty-student-administration relationship.

Ten seniors, seven of whom were Student Senators, were selected by a committee of faculty and administration to receive national recognition. The members of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" were chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, co-operation in educational and extracurricular activities, promise of future usefulness, and general good citizenship.

Among the benefits available to those selected for national recognition are a certificate of recognition and use of the publication's Student Placement Service.

Honor Society

Six students were elected this year to membership in the Honor Society. From the junior class, Ron Cherry, Phyllis Link, Carol Shoemaker, and Jack Ulsh became members. Another member of the senior class, Richard Creps, was also elected.

According to the constitution of the Juniata Honor Society, the purpose of the organization is to elevate the general scholastic scholarship. Students are chosen on the basis of scholarly achievement, moral integrity, and broad cultural interests.

Members of the Honor Society who were inducted into the group last year are Marge Alleman, Jim Giordano, Doug Martin, Lois Miller, Joan Sharp, Ray Siren, and Don Treese.

Senior Class

President Jack Rothenberger
Secretary Connie Sherman

Vice president Doug Martin
Treasurer Walt Bandurak

The class of '52 began its freshman year under the leadership of Class Chairman, Tom Gates, a Navy veteran from Altoona who is now a student at Jefferson Medical School. This office was merely a temporary one; its purpose was to consolidate the efforts of the class until an organization meeting could be held to elect a full set of officers.

It didn't take long for the members of the class to become acquainted with each other and with Juniata. Many of the members participated in all sorts of college functions such as: athletics, the choirs, dramatics and the many clubs on campus. Early in December of 1948, a special meeting was held in which Tom Gates was elected the official president of the class of '52. Those elected to assist him were Vice-President, Mike Mervis from Aliquippa, Secretary, Lois Miller of Tuckahoe New York, and Treasurer, Art Allen, Greensburg, a veteran of Army service in Alaska.

The next year, Tom Gates was again elected to the presidency. Only one new name appeared among the list of officers, Walt Bandurak from Natrona who was elected to the position of Vice-President. As Sophomores, the Class of '52 asserted itself as a worthy class of the Juniata family. Its members were seen everywhere as leaders, as members, and even more notable, as workers. Ten of the candidates for the eight Senate offices were members of the class. Don Treese and Bob Keim were elected by the student body to represent them on the Senate.

Near the end of the Spring term of their Sophomore year, Don Treese, Lois Miller, Mary Lou McKee, Marjorie Alleman, and Jack Rothenberger met with Professor Glick and laid the foundation for the Juniata Christian Association.

The Junior year was guided by the new persons and two of the old faithfuls as the class officers. Art Allen was promoted from two years service as treasurer to the top position of president. Walt Bandurak took over as treasurer and Galen Keeney of Gettysburg, replaced Walt as Vice-President. Dorothy Hummer of Ephrata became the Secretary.

At last all of the integration courses and the title of underclassmen or Junior were a thing of the past. It was time to think of comprehensives, baccalaureate, and commencement. It hardly seemed possible that they were seniors. To guide the senior class, Jack Rothenberger of Boyerstown, was elected president, Walt Bandurak, Vice-President, Connie Sherman (Homecoming Queen) Secretary, and Doug Martin handled the finances.

Art Allen, Joe Thomasberger, Dottie Hummer, Tommy Green, Betty Longwell, Connie Sherman, Marjorie Seidel, Kay Wright, Bob Keim, Jack Dickey, and Jack Rothenberger were elected to the Student Senate.

Marjorie Alleman was elected to serve as the alumni representative of the class. The senior officers were chosen to act as alumni officers.

It is impossible to mention all the note-worthy deeds of the members of this class, but the good effects caused by their having attended Juniata will long be remembered. We thank them for all they have done for Juniata.

A famous coach recently said, that there is nothing more uncertain about the results of a football game or season than the coach's job. There are so many intangible, deciding factors to a game that only a fool would predict its outcome. We think to put this theory to test you need only to question Bill Smaltz, Juniata mentor.

When Coach Smaltz called the opening practice this year, much to his chagrin, many of the returning lettermen were missing. Of the twenty-nine lettermen from the '50 season, fourteen were absent for various reasons. Seven of these absentees were expected as graduation set in. Of the remaining, three were claimed by "Uncle Sam" and the other four withdrew from school.

Therefore, coach Bill Smaltz announced another building year. "This isn't an uncommon occurrence for small colleges, "lamented Big Bill." It's becoming the rule rather than the exception. Seems we have everything set up for the coming year and we turn around and all our potential has been drained.

However, bolstered by the fifteen returning lettermen, an unusually good crop of freshmen, and that unbeatable spirit that is Juniata's the boys got down to serious business and set to work with a grit and grim determination. When the smoke of battle had cleared and the battle weary braves had reached the end of the season, they found that their labours had not been denied. They had broken even with a 3-3-1 record.

When the muscles had hardened and time rolled around to the opening kickoff the line-up looked like this: Dave Le Fevre, center; Bob Muchoney and Bill Waryck, guards; Joe Thomasberger and Bert Hackett, tackles; and at the terminal slats, Bob Wagoner and Paul Kruzelock. In the backfield, we found Dick Young at the blocking back position; Eddie Gould at the wing; Tom McNeal at full and "Lundy" Loschiavo in the tail back slot.

Dick Young and Joe Thomasberger were elected co-captains for the season.

WESTMINSTER

September 29

13-38

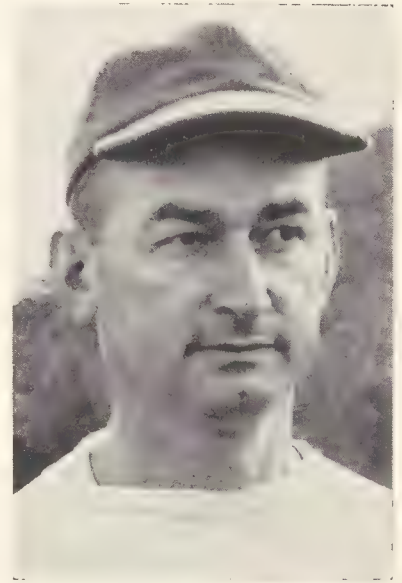

The season opened with a perfect football day. Juniata scored first to take a 7-0 lead in the first quarter. They added another six pointer in the second quarter and looked unbeatable when their attack bogged down and the day reversed. The Titans, a strong second half team, bounced back and the final score of 13-38 was not very convincing. However, this was not a preview of things to come as Juniata's squad was injury ridden and almost helpless against a strong Westminster passing attack.

SWARTHMORE

13-7

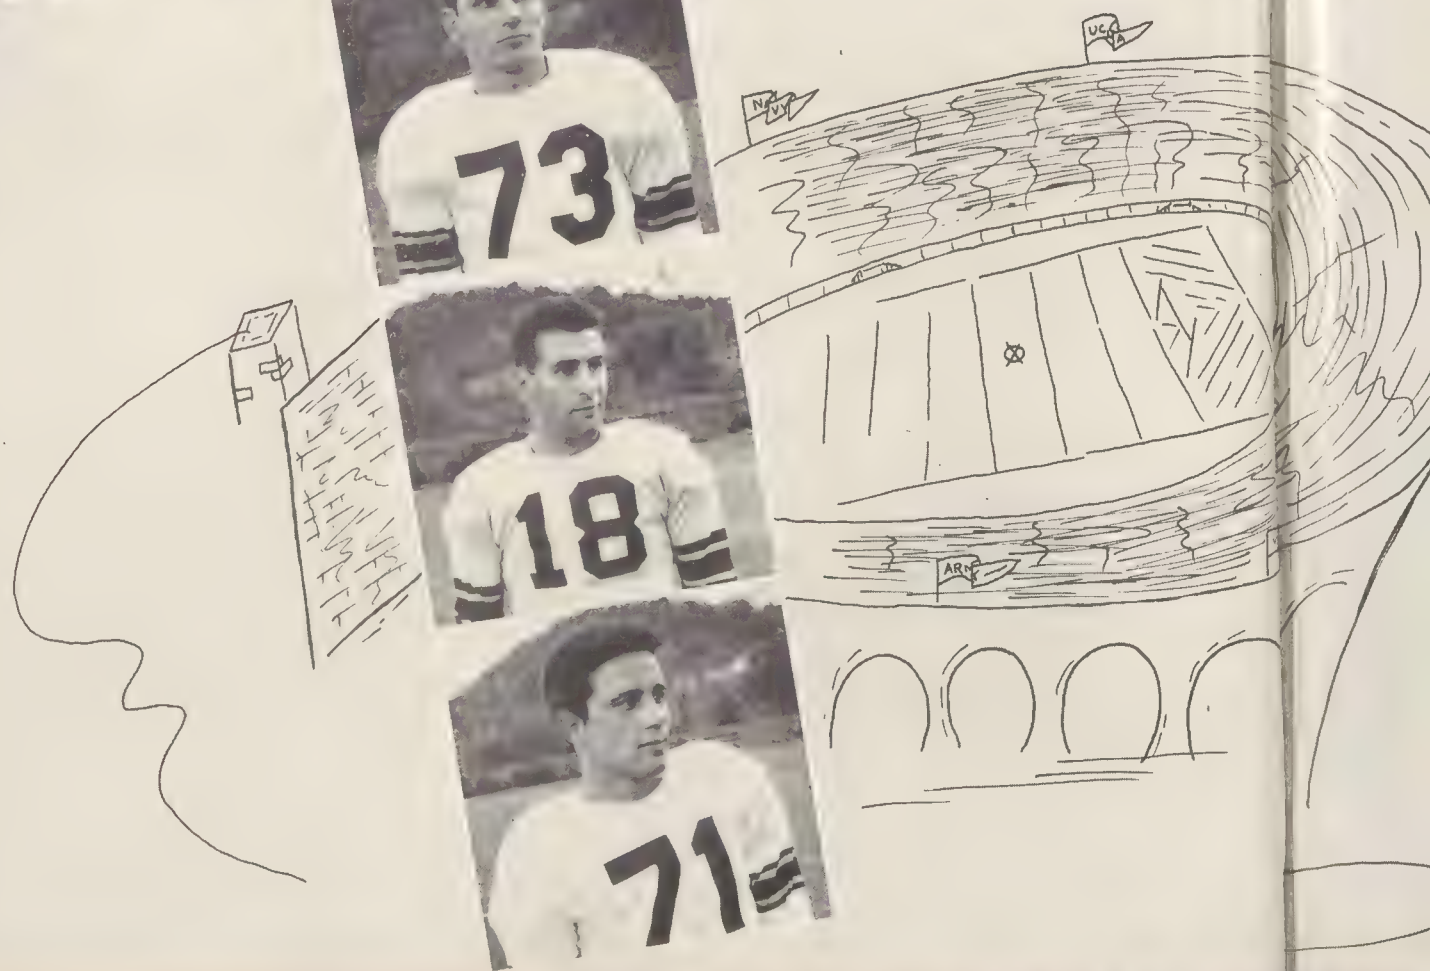

The tribe rallied back strong from their defeat and defeated a highly touted Swarthmore team. This was the first outing between two grid teams from these schools. The day was exceedingly warm and soon became a contest of who was better conditioned. When the clock ran out the tribe was ahead 13-7 and had a good feeling under its belt.

ALLEGHENY

20-20

Juniata playing its best and hardest fought game of the season at Allegheny returned from the fracas with a heartbreaking score of 20-20. The game was hard played and only the higher powers that be could have swung the balance either way. It tetered back and forth for 60 fast, rough, hard fought minutes and when all was over the balance still maintained a state of equilibrium. They say the better team wins. From that you can tell what kind of day this was.

HAVERFORD

34-6

Still looking for their second win the Indians traveled to the Philadelphia district and again showed their power when they unleashed their full strength against Haverford. Whether it was retaliation for the previous year's Homecoming Day or whether it was just in the books, the Indians ruined a Homecoming Day for the Fords to the tune of 34-6. Loschiavo's three T.D.'s set the scoring pace and before the afternoon was out, all the Indians had seen action.

SUSQUEHANNA

November 3

It was Homecoming Day at J. C., and what's more the other team was Susquehanna. Need more be said. Juniata, hoping to tumble Susquehanna from the unbeaten ranks battled the Crusaders to a scoreless first half. The second half was a thriller and the Indians threw the book at the visitors. In the end it was not quite enough and they found themselves on the short end of a 21-12 score. Standout of the day was Paul Hepak and his 21 yard kickoff return. The day as well as its results was a bitter one with temperatures below zero.

GROVE CITY

November 12

13-7

This was it. This would tell whether J. C. was to have a winning season or not. The day dawned clear and perfect football weather. Juniata gave a Parent's Day crowd a thrill by scoring first. Grove City soon tied it up at seven all. The game see-sawed until early in the fourth quarter. Tom McNeal plunged over from two out to close the scoring column for the day. Thus Juniata was assured of at least a 50-50 season.

LEBONAN VALLEY

0-33

In their final tilt Juniata met Lebanon Valley. This was a renewal of the grid rivalry after a two year layoff. The tribe fought their hardest but the bowl bound L.V. gridders weren't to be squelched and they proved just a little too much fire for the home boys to battle. When all was told the score stood at 33 for Lebanon Valley and at an even season for Juniata.

Operetta

For the past several years, a student musical has been presented in order to raise money for the aid of foreign students on campus. JWSF usually sponsors this project.

The musical provides for all interested students to participate in some way, such as stage crew, make-up, student co-ordinator, set construction, advertising committees and of course the cast and chorus, faculty members, the soloists, the stage business and the orchestra.

As in past years the musicals presented have been outstanding and it seems as though each year they are better. This year's operetta, which was "Naughty Marietta," was said to have been the best musical ever presented at J. C. In fact, one overheard remark was, "That show was professionally done."

Most musical comedies have romance to make the story interesting and so did "Naughty Marietta." This was the story of the adventures of Marietta, delightfully portrayed by Jov Truxal, who disguised herself as a casquette maiden from France transported to New Orleans for marriage to one of the settlers. Captain Dick Warrington, an American pioneer-soldier and Etienne Grandet, alias Bras Pique, infamous pirate, both fell in love with the lively Marietta and the story deals with this high-born lady's treatment of her lovers in the little bit of France transplanted in America.

Captain Dick was outstandingly played by Clyde Johnson. Helen Rosengren as Lizette and Bob Flory or Silas, were clever in their character parts and added humor to the story. Betty Shearer as Adah and Ray Siren as Bras Pique added drama to the musical. The distinguished governor as played by Rolland Taylor and his silent secretary Homer Evitts put more sparkle into the show which Professors Donald Johnson, Jack Brammer, Esther Dogle and the student-coordinator, Janet Boland, can be commended highly for their co-ordination of the many phases of the production.

To all goes a hearty applause for providing an evening of professional entertainment.

Bras Pique jests as Captain Dick and Marietta concern themselves with their future.

The scenery was just as beautiful as the weather.

The faculty was never like this in the classroom.

Ah yes, we can't forget the noodles, ham, roll, peas, and potato chips. And there were seconds!

The male members of the college rather overpowered the weaker sex in the soft-ball game.

Religious Life

Through active fellowship with one another, study of the Bible, and prayer, the Juniata Christian Association has set its purpose toward helping Juniata students to grow in Christian faith and character.

To fulfill these purposes this three year old organization held a well planned meeting each week including a worship program and a speaker. These meetings showed their effect, for accompanying them all year was a host of worthy activities. One of these was the Christmas Party for underprivileged children with a real Santa and gifts. Another was the all college communion service in Oller Hall. Given on April 8th this year, President Ellis and other faculty members traditionally led the service and were assisted by student deacons.

The sending of deputation teams, composed of a student minister and musical group, to surrounding Churches of the Brethren was arranged by this association. J. C. A. also had representatives at intercollegiate activities like the faculty student conference on "Christianity in Higher Education" held at Dickinson and the Student Volunteer Movement Quadrennial Conference at the University of Kansas.

The membership of about two hundred fifty provided the interest and hard work that went into Spiritual Emphasis Week, sponsored by the college. Edward K. Zeigler led chapel services and the challenging evening discussion. The calm stillness of morning air as students told and sang to each other about God was another lasting impression on those students who attended the morning watch services. Another area of activity was in the student led discussions in faculty homes on "Where Are We Going" as a closing for the Spiritual Emphasis Week. Lesson study in the President's Bible Class is now under the direction of this group.

Juniata Christian Association

A typical Tuesday evening meeting of the J.C.A.

One reason why the J. C. A. is such a vital campus group is due to the organization they follow. Besides the usual offices the cabinet is composed of commissions which have set out to work in the four big areas of Christian duty. They are: Christian Heritage, Personal-Campus Relations, Social Responsibility and World Relatedness Commissions. Under each of these areas is a group of standing committees whose members work toward that goal to which the J. C. A. has come a step closer this year—helping Juniata students grow in Christian faith and character.

Ably assisted by Lodge and Cloister hall representatives, Jack Dickey took up the task of promoting favorable dormitory living and study conditions as Senate Chairman of Men's House.

The committee recognized the need for a recreation room for the men, painted and was responsible for the refurbishing of the men's lounge. This lounge, located in the Cloister, is used for a game room or for meetings that are of significance to men only.

The fact that three "open house" dates were permitted this year shows that the administration had confidence in the work of this committee and their leadership in dormitory living.

The job of the Women's House Committee is to help maintain conditions and order in the women's dormitory. This year they voted to change the late system, giving the girls more automatic lates, but less special lates.

With Connie Sherman as their chairman, the girls decided to buy new lampshades for the Social Rooms as their project. The Committee took charge of the Christmas banquet and also the teas during exam weeks. Their main aim was to try to make all the resident girls as comfortable and happy as possible.

The Social Committee is directly responsible for all Saturday night functions on campus. With the help of other clubs and organizations on campus, the committee under the chairmanship of Betty Longwell succeeded in planning a varied program.

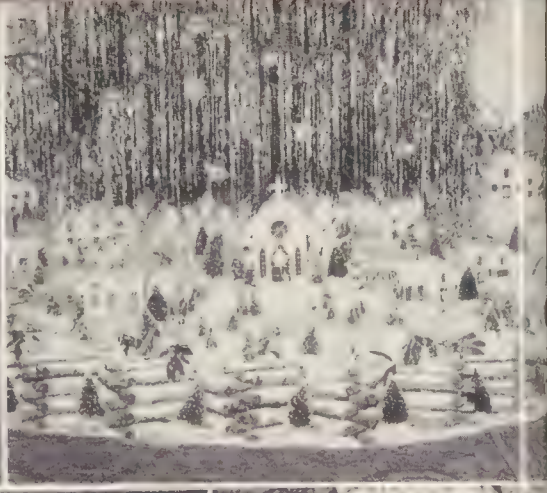

Activities retained from previous years include a Sadie Hawkins Party, the class parties, movies, and the Homecoming Dance. The committee worked hard to widen the scope of social functions at Juniata College.

The Underclassman Committee, as set up by the Senate, has as its main function the orientation of freshmen men and women to the Juniata way of life. This aim was achieved by freshman assemblies, and an introduction to the ideals of the college through the court, initiation regulations, and Freshman Week. Senate Chairman of Underclassmen, Jack Rothenberger, and his committee started a constructive initiation for the first time this year. One need only to observe this year's freshman class to realize how successful the program was.

Junior Class

President—Bob Wagoner
Secretary—May Ikeda

Vice-President—Harold Keener
Treasurer—Wes Diener

By the year 1952 the Junior Class, brief as it was with thirty-five girls and seventy-five men, had pulled from its ranks, talent no one ever dreamed was there when they entered Juniata as those slow-to-learn freshmen. Besides the officers, Bob Wagoner, President, Jack Ulsh, Vice-President, May Ikeda, Secretary and Harold Keener, Treasurer, leaders in every phase of campus life were represented. Juniors distinguished themselves on the Senate, J.C.A., Juniatian staff, Alfarata staff, choirs, plays, the band, in clubs, and on the athletic field. In these positions, they were trained and trained others for the situations which each student faces after graduation.

With a force on the Alma Mater they set a record as being the first freshman class to win an All Class Night skit and produced a true but dramatic picture of the problems of youth the following year. A cowboy version of Romeo and Juliet given this year brought to light still another phase of dramatic talent different from the strict drama and pure comedy given in previous years.

When they had become juniors, these students had definitely decided they liked Juniata. Well along in their majors, they had plenty of time to study for comprehensives and were qualified to devote more of themselves to JC's extra-curricular activities and academic life. That is why they liked to be called the Jolly Juniors. The unrest of adjustment had all cleared away for this class as it usually does the third year, and many a member had even confessed that he hated the thought of graduation so soon.

It was a bitter pill for them to swallow when they had to stand on the sidelines and watch freshman initiation, remembering their activities of 1951. There were compensations, however. The spacious new Memorial Gym was dedicated, the J.W.S.F. drive went over the top, and "Naughty Marietta" proved a huge success in this their junior year.

It has been a good year, one the juniors will never forget. They are looking now toward the wind-up of a full college career as they will be seniors, sophisticated but sincere.

Sophomore Class

Back at dear JC, they are no longer the baby of the family, peering ahead with dread at the oncoming face to see whether that's a soph behind it to report them to Court. Now they've become initiators, a valiant attempt towards constructive initiation too, but it's lost by the wayside.

No sooner did the sophs appear on campus than they captured four out of the seven leading roles in "Naughty Marietta," four editorships on the Juniata staff and a name for themselves as a class with leadership abilities.

The football team leans heavily on its sophomore mates; McNeal, Hamor, Hackett, Gould, Patricelli, Clapper, and Knox, all contributing their weight and spirit in the game.

Homecoming Day swings in sight and for the second time, the girls of '54 glory in victory on the hockey field, the boys slink sleepishly away from two losses. Christmas draws nigh and Bernie Petrusky takes the situation into his capable hands and transforms the Social Rooms into an old fashioned setting for a wonderful white Christmas.

Back again with the new year, "Romeo and Juliet" is chosen by the Masque; two sophs, Nancy Newman and Wilfred Norris, put a new enchantment in an old story. The Class of '54 starts the ball rolling at once; All Class Night committee, under Naomi Kulp; dance committee for the "Strutter's Ball under Joy Truxal; and Move-up Day arrangements get going with a spirit of determination.

The sophomores come into the spotlight again as Jim Marr is chosen tennis captain and Tom Cherok and Tom Sanders take their places as returning lettermen on the golf team.

John Cook, Bob Bridenbaudh, D. D. Silldorf and Ben Newcomer are elected to lead the class of '54 on to another year of achievement in the Juniata family.

The class of '54 appeared on the Juniata Campus with one of the largest post war classes and with their quantity they brought leadership, musical talent, athletic ability, and an aptitude of willingness to live and learn in the surroundings they have adopted for four short years.

This year's J.W.S.F. drive was another big success as the goal of $1952 was exceeded with the total soaring to $2000 by the time the Alfarata went to press.

The goal was reached through the generous contributions of students, faculty, administration, friends, organizations, the dining hall, and the operetta. The money was directed toward four beneficiaries, namely the Christian University of Tokyo, two Brethren missionaries, H. Stover Kulp and Paul S. Hoover, the World Student Service Fund, and the Foreign Student Aid Fund.

The 1952 drive was headed by General Chairman, Ray Siren. Working with him were Jack Ulsh, Chairman of Solicitations; Earl Detrick, Chairman of Publicity; Lois Miller, Secretary; and Dave Bayer, Treasurer.

As a part of the national student Christian movement, the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship on Juniata's campus is open to everyone. Here opportunity is provided for Bible study, personal witnessing, and the maintenance of a sound testimony for Christ.

Weekly meetings included guest speakers as well as students to conduct the study of various chapters of the Bible.

Alpha Beta Gamma

Each month the elementary education majors gathered together for talks and trips that are of interest to future teachers. The programs included a trip to the kindergarten in Huntingdon, and also a trip to the Alfarata school to hear the principal, Mr. Malloy speak.

The members gave a Halloween party in October to a group of first graders, for first-hand experience. Another project was taking charge of National Book Week, ably done by the children's literature class, a branch of the club. The programs and the projects were designed to stimulate interest in the teaching profession.

Careers in action was the theme for the Lambda Gamma this year. Their main goal was to raise money to eventually be able to send a sewing machine to a university overseas. Several bake sales were sponsored for this cause.

During the Christmas season the club distributed five baskets to the needy families in Huntingdon, and also went caroling. Other meetings featured a tour through a modern house, and talks by Dean McCormick and a furrier from Clearfield.

A senior member, Ruth Armentrout, was elected president of the State Home Economics College Clubs at their annual convention. The Lambda Gamma again aimed to meet Pennsylvania's 'Standards of Excellency' for their third time.

Tycoon Club

To stimulate greater interest in the practical aspects of business, the Tycoon Club is open to students in the Department of Economics and Business Administration.

Guest speakers for the year talked about timely subjects such as banking, merchandising, and other typical problems pertinent to relationships between business and the rest of society. Informal group discussions, not always possible in the classroom presentation, are also a part of the semi-monthly meetings.

The purpose of this organization is to stimulate the interest of prospective students entering the teaching field.

For the high light of the year, the F.T.A. asked Dr. Margaret Lindsey, of Columbia University, to address the members, faculty, and other interested people on the "Present Problems of the Teaching Profession."

Other meetings consisted of a panel discussion composed of several of the student teachers, and later, another panel with four prominent teachers from the Huntingdon schools.

A senior member, Janet Boland, was elected President of the Central District Organization of the Future Teacher's of America.

Pyrenees Club

Someone had a brilliant idea of combining the French Club and the Spanish Club, and the result was of course, a new club, the Pyrenees Club. The Club was organized to promote a better understanding of these countries and their culture and is open to all those majoring in French or Spanish or who are otherwise genuinely interested in the life and language of these people.

Featured on the monthly meetings were songs, games, dances, and foreign language lectures, all of which serve to create new interests in foreign lands.

Under the guiding assistance of Dr. S. Lees Booth, the Juniata College Debating Society has successfully completed another year of activities. After extensive and careful preparation, nearby colleges were tackled early in the year on the national question, and the season was climaxed with a commendable performance at the State Debating Tournament. This organization compiled a record of which it may well be proud.

Debate Club

Chemistry Club

The Chemistry Club had a variety of projects this year, including speakers, a field trip to the Viscose Plant in Lewistown, a booth in the May Day festival, and a picnic in conjunction with the Scalpel and Probe. Several members participated in radio programs. The membership now includes twelve Student Affiliates of the American Chemical Society. Under the guidance of the advisers and officers, the club has had a very successful year.

This year, as in past years, the Scalpel and Probe again endeavored to provide an extracurricular program of value to the pre-med and biology students.

On the agenda for the year were included several speakers who presented interesting topics concerning their specific field in biology. Among these were Dr. Stuart who spoke about medical schools, and the local game warden who explained his many duties and showed movies on hunting. The annual picnic was held in the spring and this served as the final meeting of the year.

Outing Club

The purpose of the Outing Club is to provide an outdoor program for members by which sportsmanship, fellowship, and physical fitness are promoted. Last year the club finished the college cabin, Te-Ke-Sta, and weekend outings were planned for the club members this year. Emblems are awarded to members in recognition of club participation. The Outing Club serves well in providing wholesome outdoor recreation.

International Relations Club

To awaken and guide the interests of the students in world affairs is the objective of the IRC. The meetings are devoted to the study of world problems especially those threatening peace.

Noted lecturers from foreign countries were brought to Juniata's campus by the club. Through their talks as well as those of foreign students at Juniata this organization helps students become aware of their duties as citizens and persuades them to take a part now in the problems that will affect their lives later.

Sigma Gamma

This was an anniversary year for the sociology department, as it marked the fiftieth year of their existence. The Sigma Gamma organization, however, is relatively recent.

Their meetings were designed to arouse the interest of sociology majors, and to celebrate their anniversary, three men who were first to graduate in sociology were invited to be guest speakers.

Senior members were tested with trial comprehensives, and other programs were based on current problems. Professors on campus spoke to the group and related other fields to sociology. To end their year of activities, the club held the annual banquet in the spring.

Camera Club

Despite its small membership, the Camera Club is one of the more active groups on Juniata's campus and contributes much to the college's publications and activities.

In addition to lectures on developing and printing of pictures, the club sponsored a photography contest this year. Students other than those belonging to the Camera Club were also urged to participate.

The aims of the club are to provide materials and equipment for developing films, to teach beginners in photography, and to provide photos for campus publications.

The Varsity J Club is one of the oldest and most active organizations on campus. It is composed entirely of lettermen from the college sports program. Their active schedule includes preparation for the Homecoming dance, selling booster tags, publication of the Indian, and presentation of sweaters to their members. Under the leadership of president Bob Frain, the J Club fulfilled their aims of encouragement of good sportsmanship in athletics as well as the promotion of a feeling of fellowship and friendliness among its members and other students.

Indian

The Indian, published by the J Club at every home football game, is an official football program of Juniata College. The program was devoted to giving a pre-game summary of the Indians' progress throughout the season.

Ray Siren edited the Indian and was assisted by club president, Bob Frain and another J Club member, John Cook.

A new club for those interested in shooting and wildlife in general, was created in the form of a Sportsman's Club. Under the guidance of Doug Martin, the club set up a rifle range on the Rockwell land and numerous shooting matches were held. Members also heard lectures on different phases of outdoor life. This club promises to be a rather active one in the coming years.

Radio Committee

The radio Committee has the opportunity of publicizing the college and presenting programs of general interest. At the same time it provides experience for those interested in radio techniques. To acquaint local people with college activities such features as Thanksgiving, Homecoming, Christmas, and Spiritual Emphasis Week were given. A very interesting program, "Which is More Brilliant, Student or Professor?" was presented in the spring of the year. In addition, Turntable Terrace is of interest to future disc jockeys.

Band

Under the direction of Prof. Jack Brammer, the Juniata College Band performs at various school functions throughout the year. The blue and gold marching band take the field during half time and provide the fans with grand entertainment. It supplies the spirit of enthusiasm for the pep rallies as well as the football games. Juniata College may be proud of its band which also performs at special occasions.

Touring Choir

An active organization on campus is the Juniata Choir, composed of twenty-six of the finest voices accompanied by a seven piece instrumental ensemble. This year under the new direction of Prof. Donald S. Johnson, the choir marked its twentieth year of successful performance.

The highlight of the choir's season was a ten day tour of the cities of eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware. In addition to the annual tour, the choir went on three weekend trips, participated in several chapel services, the Palm Sunday, May Day, and Commencement programs.

The officers of the choir were: Clyde Johnson, President; Wesley Diemer, Manager; Jo Chiodi, Assistant Manager; Rheda Clemmer, Secretary; Harold Bowser, Treasurer; Helen Rosengren, Publicity.

Chapel Choir

An on-campus organization providing choral responses, leading hymn singing, and singing anthems for the college chapel services is the Juniata College Chapel Choir under the direction of Professor Donald S. Johnson.

Each year the choir presents a musical program on the Christmas story. They are assisted by numerous other students on campus. This religious spectacle is very effective in bringing about the Christmas spirit and is witnessed by many.

Juniata College Orchestra

Variety in the Juniata orchestra is achieved in programs providing the performer and the audience with a fine selection of modern, light, and classical music. Under the capable direction of professor Jack Brammer, the orchestra presents each year a concert and provides the music for special occasions such as May Day, and the operetta which this year was "Naughty Marietta." Weekly rehearsals is the key to Juniata's fine orchestra.

Basketball

Coach Greene

The 1951-52 Juniata College basketball season was noteworthy in quite a few respects, though not one of a superlative degree. For the first time in some five years, the Blue and Gold cagers were able to claim more than four victories. The final figures showed five wins and thirteen losses.

Coach "Doc" Greene's third season as varsity coach was marked by an increasing emphasis on the fast break, as evidenced by his employ of players with speed and good set-shooting ability though of sub-par height as college hoopsters go. Many times throughout the season, their race-horse tactics brought the home crowd to its feet in excitement.

This season, the first played in the Memorial Physical Education Building, saw the establishment of quite a few new scoring records. Heading this list was the breaking of Dick Wareham's old single game scoring record of 42 points in 1944, by freshman set-shot artist David Pollock. Davey poured 43 points through the home cords on twenty field goals, also a new record, and three fouls. This effort somewhat overshadowed the team record, set the same evening by Lebanon Valley who connected for 102 points.

Pollock's record also stands as the individual high for the new gym. Finishing the season with 304 points, averaging 17.9 per game, he can claim a niche in the list of Juniata all-time floor greats.

This year's captain, Tom Green, was the team's foul shooting ace, with a .753 average. Deadly on set shots from the corner, Tom, a senior, finished second in scoring and led the team's fast-break offense. Two other players of the shorter, faster variety sparked the Indian attack, they being Jack Dickey, also a senior, and sophomore Fran Zimmerman.

Height and rebound strength came from Ed Feldkircher, John Cook and Leo Kuhn, all of whom compiled respectable scoring marks. Reserve strength was provided by Dave Bayer, Herb Law and Jim Boulton, the latter two being sparkplugs of the Junior Varsity.

After a trip to Annville where Lebanon Valley came out on the long end, 85-65, the Indians returned to take over Dickinson 86-84 in a hair-raising climax topped by Feldkircher's final gun set shot. The Indiana Teacher's took the measure of the Juniata's 87-67 away, and 83-70 here in Huntingdon.

Juniata registered its second victory by trouncing Susquehanna 72-41 in the home gym and later, at Selinsgrove 72-56. Albright returned the Blue and Gold to the ranks of the vanquished 95-53, before the Indians upset Elizabethtown 54-51 on the local court. E-town later avenged this loss by handing out a 72-42 verdict.

Geneva and Westminster added to the string of opposing victories by 94-73 and 96-61 counts respectively. Juniata then took over Shippensburg STC 50-48 before bowing to F & M 84-61. In the final contest of the season, Lebanon Valley set records by eclipsing the century mark 102-78.

In retrospect, the past season largely followed suit as typical to Juniata, though the tactics of Coach Greene seem to be taking a firmer hold here on college hill. Perhaps this may be the last of the "character building" seasons, and who knows, with only two men graduating, J. C. might soon claim a winning record.

The Women's Athletic Association has only one requirement for membership, and that is a genuine interest in sports. The club is in complete charge of all girls' intramural activities and tournaments which include the four major sports, hockey, volleyball, basketball, and softball, and the minor sports of ping pong, badminton, bowling, tennis, and archery.

In order to finance delegates to national conventions, sports days, and play days, the WAA has concessions in the girls' dorm.

JUNIATA

Spring

Freshman Class

President—Russel Hill

Secretary—Sue Jamison

Vice president—Paul Hepak

Treasurer—Dick Ikeda

Nine months ago, a bunch of bewildered freshmen made their first appearance on Juniata's fair campus. Garbed in the traditional green and yellow dinks, name cards, and other freshman regulations they gazed with awe at the forbidden diagonal and front steps—their "Promised Land."

Via the famed J. C. grapevine, they heard of the horrors they would experience at the hands of the "high and mighty" sophomores and the freshman court in the long weeks of indoctrination. These grapevine rumors incited spirit and class unity and a feeling of really belonging to the Juniata family.

The President and Mrs. Ellis opened wide their doors to welcome the class of '55 to an afternoon tea, and their introduction to college life had begun. Off with the regulations! On with the formals! The formal introduction to the faculty at the Faculty Reception was very impressive, and the change in the gym was almost unbelievable.

Busy days were ahead and with it many trips to the library to read the outside readings for the never-to-be-forgotten integration courses. In those first days, the psychological breaks were few and far between.

Homecoming was the weekend for freshmen to show their stuff, and they did. Winning two out of three contests with their archrivals, they were rewarded with permission to doff their dinks, shed cumbersome regulations, and attend the Homecoming formal dance.

Freshman life sparked with football games, football rallies, social events at Oller Hall, Mountain Day, Saturday night dates, basketball games, and more and more psychological breaks.

On March 26, the frosh reached their promised land and made their initial walk up the diagonal and front steps. They were never more aware of and grateful for the traditions of Juniata as they stood on the front steps and sang the Alma Mater amidst the cheers of the upperclassmen. Their year as freshmen was theoretically over and a grand year it was.

The more ambitious members of the class worked long and hard on "Honeymoon U. S. A.," their contribution to All Class Night.

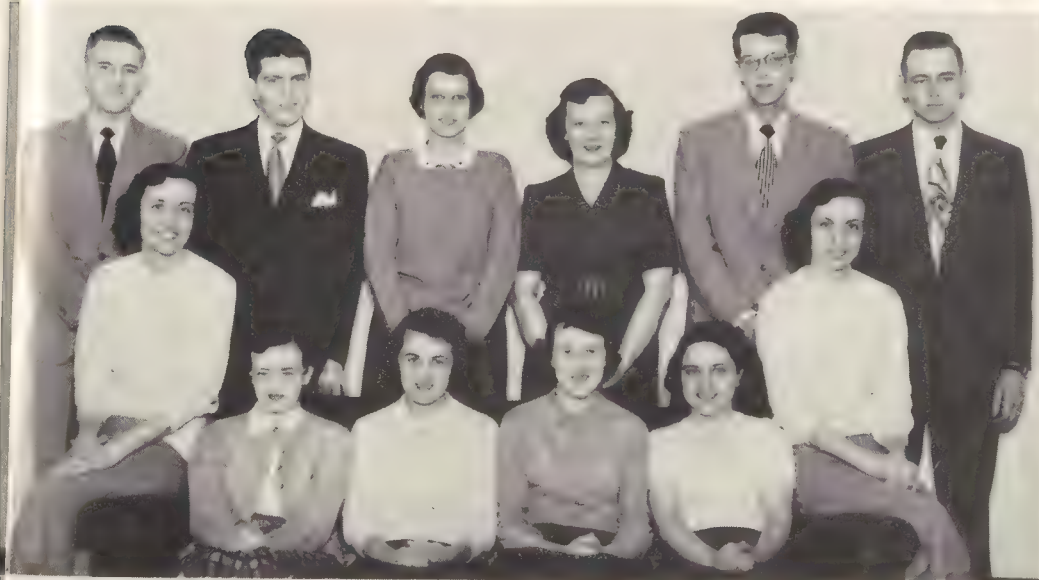

"We'll ne'er forget tho' far we go the days within her walls"—They won't forget those Tuesday night trips to the forboding court, the English conferences, getting acquainted with the "stranger" who shared the same room, freshman assemblies, and the breath taking experience of final examinations.

Baseball

Coach Smaltz

The Juniata College Indians waged a successful baseball campaign in the spring of 1951 by bouncing back from a four game losing streak early in the season to eventually wind up with a 9 win, 8 loss slate.

Probably the biggest highlight of the season was the no-hit, no-run game hurled by right-hander, Earl Detrick, against Lycoming. In hurling the headline performance, Detrick allowed only one walk and one hit batsman, while striking out six. The 11-0 victory was the first collegiate win for Earl in his first season as a varsity man.

Coach Bill Smaltz was faced with a tremendous rebuilding job at the opening of the season with only five lettermen returning. These holdovers included co-captains Ray Tesi and George Kensinger, outfielder Joe Holgus, and pitchers, Jack Dickey and Dave LeFevre. Also found on the squad on opening day were Karl Park, Duke Schetrompf, Phil Chabody, Ed Feldkircher, Tom McNeal, Dave Hackett, Fran Zimmerman, Bob Simon, Mike Mervis, and Dale Zimmerman.

The Tribe opened the campaign on a successful note by setting down the Indiana State Teachers College nine 9 to 7. Outstanding in the victory were LeFevre, the winning pitcher, Kensinger, who batted in four runs, and Dickey and Schetrompf, each of whom batted in two runs.

LETTERMEN ON THE OPPOSITE PAGE

LETTERMEN

Pitchers Ed Gould, Dave LeFevre,
Earl Detrick, and Jack Dickey.

Here comes the pitch!

The Tribe fell down in defeat in the next four games, losing to Lebanon Valley 11-3; Bucknell 9-1; Geneva 5-4; and Indian State Teachers College 13-0. However, the Indians came back to win the next three games, setting down St. Francis twice, once behind the masterful five hit pitching of Ed Feldkircher and again 10-7 in a ten inning tilt. By a one sided margin of 15-7 the Tribe beat Susquehanna.

The University of Pittsburgh's nine brought the Indians' winning streak to an abrupt end with a thrilling 4-3 victory. Pitt had to come from behind to win as JC scored its 3 runs in the first inning, the big blow being Schetrompf's 2 run single.

Tom Green, pitching a four hit ballgame, helped the Indians wallop Lycoming by the score of 21-2. Other stars were Fran Zimmerman with two homeruns, a triple, and a single; Schetrompf and Kensinger, each with three hits; and Dave Hackett with a grand slam homerun.

Dickinson outlasted the Juniata nine in the next tilt, winning 10-6. The big stickman for the Tribe was again Schetrompf whose 3 run homerun accounted for half of the Tribe's total.

Later in the season JC took the measure of Susquehanna for the second time by winning 8-4. Ed Feldkircher notched his second win while Ken Leonard was the stickman with 4 RBI's.

The Indians were shut out by Lebanon Valley in their second meeting. However the Tribe snapped back to emerge victorious in three of their last four games, splitting a pair with Elizabethtown, each by scores of 6-5, setting down Lycoming 11-0, and in the final game of the season, downing Frostburg STC by a score of 6-3.

Golf

Kneeling: Ray Korody, Dr. Kiracofe, Bob Rhodes. Standing: Tom Czerok, Dave Bayer, Art Allen, Tom Sanders.

Proudly displaying trophies won throughout the year are Dr. Kiracofe, Bob Rhodes, Ray Korody, Art Allen, and Tom Czerok.

Since its establishment on College Hill as an inter-collegiate sport in 1947 by Professor Jack Oller, golf has become Juniata's most successful form of athletic competition. There are few other colleges, large or small, who are able to equal our envious record. In five years of competition, Indian golfers have won 36 of 41 dual matches losing only 4 and tying 1. As yet no opposing team has been able to down the Tribe on their home course, the Huntingdon Country Club, and the record there reads 20-0-0.

During the spring of 1951, led by co-captains Ray Korody and Bob Rhodes and coached by Dr. Edgar Kiracofe, the J. C. teemen scored a total of 52 individual points while dropping 10 and tying 1. Five of these losing points came at the hands of Westminster who in a snowstorm at New Castle administered to Juniata its only defeat of the year 5-4.

April was the big month for dual matches for the Indians. Starting on the 11th, J. C. downed Dickinson, 8-1 and Gettysburg, 7-2 before being beaten by Westminster on the 17th. Getting back into winning stride, the Indians' linkmen finished out the month with consecutive victories over Geneva 9-0, Pitt 6-3, and Dickinson again 8½-½.

Although only four dual matches were played and won (Albright 6-1, Bucknell 9-0, Rutgers 5-1 and John Hopkins 7-0), May must be considered a big month for the Juniata golfers. It was in this month that the tribesmen represented by Ray Korody, Bob Rhodes, Art Allen and Tom Czerok swept to victories in their own Juniata Invitational and the 12th annual Western Maryland Invitational. In winning the Mount Union event Juniata finished with a total score of 627 for the 36 holes while their closest rival, Lehigh University accumulated 646. The Indians soundly broke the record set last year by the University of Pennsylvania who because of other commitments did not participate. By shooting a 3 under par 147, John Dyniewski of Temple became medalist while Ray Korody was runner up with 153.

The winning of the Western Maryland marked the third consecutive year the J. C. has carried home the laurels.

Basically the phenominal success of the 1951 golf team, which also included Senior Bud Kreider, Sophomore Dave Bayer, and Freshmen Tom Sanders, may be attributed to the fact that not one member had a losing season.

Track

Over the hurdles comes a J trackman.

Of all the spring sports in which Juniata participates, track has the distinction of being the oldest from an intercollegiate standpoint. While the first basket ball game was played on College Hill in 1899, it was not until 1904 that this sport acquired an intercollegiate status. One year earlier, on June 5, 1903 to be precise, track was initiated at Juniata when the Crusades of Susquehanna journeyed to Huntingdon to down the Indians 60-41. Since then, track has proved to be a most successful adventure for Juniata Athletes, being only second to golf; and in spite of this year's 1-4 record, the overall totals for dual meets show 46 wins for J. C. against 38 losses and 1 tie.

The 1951 edition of Juniata Cindermen showed a marked weakness in field events especially the weight events. In those meets, which J. C. dropped, most of the points that made up the deciding margin were accumulated by our opponents in that category. During the entire season, the Indians collected only 49½ out of a possible 276 points given for placing in field events.

Under the direction of "Mike" Snider and led by lettermen Coy Hicks, Jack Rothenberger, Joe Hackman, and Fred Stauffer, the thinclads opened the season on April 17 at Shippensburg. When the final results had been tabulated, J. C. came out on the short end 82-44.

Following, Dickinson downed the Tribe 73-53 on April 23 and on May 5, Albright did the same 87-38. The Indians closed out their season by placing third behind Bucknell and Gettysburg in a triangular meet.

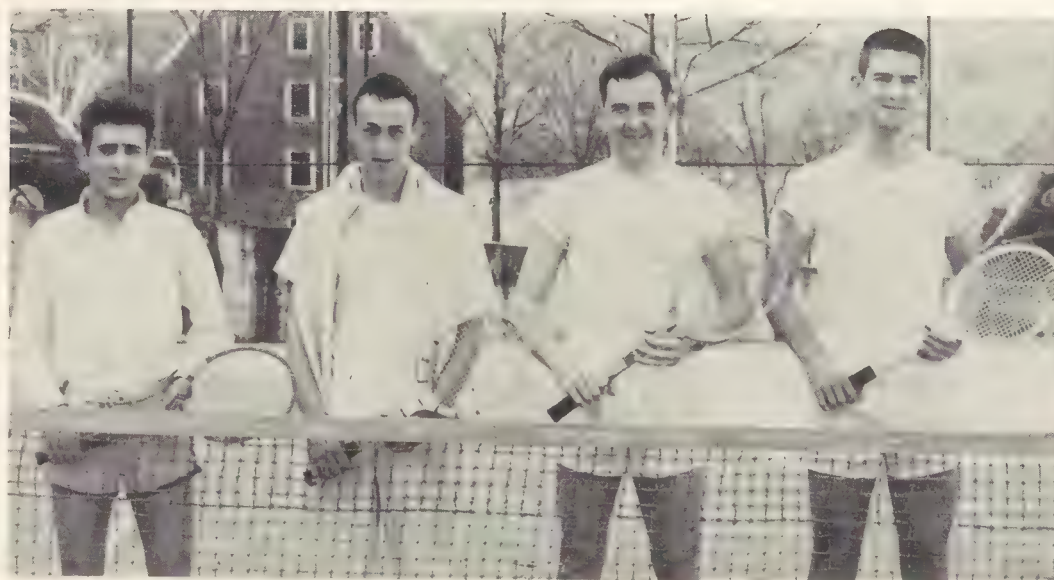

Senior Coy Hicks led the team in scoring with 49 points while runner up, Joe Hackman, accumulated 47½. During the season, three more Tribesmen, Bob Flory, John Cook, and Bob Blakely, won their varsity J's.

Although the record of the 1951 squad is not very impressive, it was an asset to Juniata as it proved to be another of her hard fighting, fair playing, never say die athletic teams.

The high jump draws attention here.

Tennis

By splitting an eight match schedule, Juniata's netmen attained their finest season since 1930. Until their win over Indiana S. T. C. in the second match of the campaign, the Indians had lost 13 in a row beginning in 1947.

Tennis was dropped from the list of inter-collegiate sports at Juniata in 1948 and remained in such a state until 1950 when students petitioned for its reinstatement. With this action, a squad, under the direction of coach "Mike" Snider, was formed and a schedule drawn up. Although the team of that year failed to win any matches, it started the game on the road back and provided valuable experience for those which remained to play in 1951.

Led by letter men Steve Finckel and Bob Frain in addition to Captain Ray Hollinger, the teams opened their season against Dickinson at Carlisle on April 11. Fortune did not smile at J. C. that day, however, and the boys returned to Huntingdon suffering from a 6-3 setback. After a match with Elizabethtown had been postponed, the Indians traveled to Indiana when, in grand style, they broke their losing streak 9-0. On the road again, the Tribesmen ran into a strong Penn State aggregation, and though fighting all the way, went down to defeat 8-1. Returning to their home courts Juniata's representatives again smashed Indiana S. T. C. 9-0, after which Lycoming downed the Tribe 7-2 at Williamsport.

Following, E-town was beaten twice 5-4 and 7-2, once home and once away. In the final match of the season Lycoming just barely managed to squeeze out their second victory over Juniata 5-4.

Starters for all the matches were determined by ladder play with Steve Finckel holding on to his number one position for the entire year. Other men who represented Juniata on the courts were Bob Frain, Ray Hollinger, Jim Marr, Bob Rauch, Terry Harrison, Bob Brumbaugh, and John Potteiger.

Although the Tribe won only half their matches never, except maybe for the State match, were they trounced; and never were they shut, a feat which they, themselves, accomplished twice.

With the return of Miss Doyle, the Masque undertook their largest major production. This, of course, was "Romeo and Juliet," which was acclaimed with the greatest artistic success.

Besides this main activity, the Masque held several workshop productions, and listened to outside speakers. They also made trips to Penn State to see their dramatic accomplishments.

May 8th was the date set for the spring banquet honoring all masquers. Only those earning 100 points were eligible to be a masquer. Those receiving the award this year were Miriam Barnes, Sylvia Barnes, Joyce Grove, Clare Nolan, Joan Sharp, Jeanne Tait, Charles Barklow, Homer Evitts, John Long, Bernard Petrusky, and Paul Good.

Romeo and Juliet

Take tragedy, romance, mix in bits of comedy, intrigue, and swordplay and you have "Romeo and Juliet." Comments of praise and successful performance, heard from the audience proved that the Masque's first attempt to portray Shakespearean tragedy was a huge success.

Prince Consort, Bill Korman,
Crowns Queen, Gladys Gehman

Welcoming the coming of spring to the college campus in a new manner this year was the Spring Festival. Beautiful Queen Gladys and her Prince Charming, Bill Korman, reigned over the outdoor festivity. Each club and organization on campus prepared a booth or display for the visitors on campus. Then in the tradition of past years, the Queen and her court were given the main event. Queen Gladys, from Windber, Pa., was previously Miss Homecoming and an attendant on former May Courts. The Maid of Honor was Erla Mae Weist, and the senior attendants were Dolly Shaffer and Phyllis Baughman. Other attendants were: Connie Sherman and Norma Gene Sinclair, juniors; Rhoda Clemmer and Betty Monks, sophomores; Peggy Brumbaugh and Dorcas Mertz, freshmen.

All Class Night

The Freshmen did it again! With a musical program entitled, "Honeymoon U. S. A.," they captured the heart of the audience and the director, Allegra Forney, proudly accepted the All Class Night cup for the class of '55.

Not to be under-rated were the other three skits. The Sophomores came through with a drama, "Bangalore," showing the caste system of India. The Juniors and Seniors went on stage with satires. The Junior's version of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," "Forsooken Willie," proved quite entertaining for those who had seen the Masque's production earlier in the year. Meeting the occasion of an election year, the Seniors wrote, "Daddy's in the White House." All in all, this year's All Class Night was one of the finest.

The Alfarata for this year takes its place beside the long chain of books that have marked the development of the College with the hope that it will mark a time when Juniata achieved a new momentum. It is a pictorial of another year at Juniata College, a great year. We worked with only one thought in mind, that of bringing to you, the students, a source of recollections of the people and activities that were a part of your lives for one short but treasured year.

Scout

The incoming students of any college are always filled with numerous unanswered questions. In order to answer some of them and help acquaint the students with life at Juniata College, the Scout is published annually. This small blue handbook includes many things of interest, freshman regulations, dormitory rules, traditions, a guide to the various clubs and organizations, songs and cheers, plus a glimpse at the general calendar of events for the coming year.

Editors ponder over some copy.

At the end of the year, it's always wise for those concerned with any project to set up a profit and loss statement to see how they stand in relation to their goal. The following chart is the P-L statement for the Juniatian. The Input side of the ledger is couched in specific terms, while the Result side uses only general phrases. This is because we know what went into the Juniatian, but only you, remembering back to what it meant to you, can say for certain how the books should balance.

WE who have worked on this book have had a broadening experience. There were many headaches about mistakes we didn't realize until it approached the deadlines; things we had planned were never completely realized. But, it is our hope that this book may brighten many hours for you in future years.

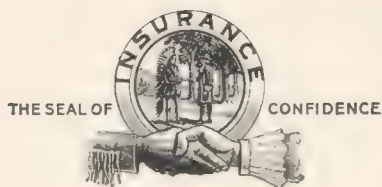

To Our Advertisers

The publication of a small college yearbook such as ours would not be possible without the cooperation and interests of the businesses closely associated with our college community. We sincerely appreciate the part they have played in bringing our book to reality.
